

the androbionts did walk around most of the times on their own, doing the work they have agreed with their human companions plus inventing new ways to get rid of this work in a sustainable fashion for example the androbionts who were cleaning up plastik trash were pooling money they had been given when selling their artisan produces they manufactured out of some unique trash pieces from this pool they invested into the fabrication of biodegradable packaging materials the many thousands of them managed to get such big amounts of money together that they could fabricate the bioplastic in great quantities what was offered at half of the price petrol based plastic was asked for other androbionts were asked to stay longer times in the hospitals as the doctors and nurses could see major improvements of the healing times with patients who had been visited by androbionts these hospitals too donated money to the androbionts what they pooled to found their own healing houses again other abions did write hundredthousands of texts with exact and detailed rules of combining them in this or that manner so their jobs of being a secretary or case manager in an office was automated to more than half ... what gave many free hours in a day they spent on further improving the work by for example creating little machines what could do the physical tasks like delivering letters or packages with piles of paperwork...

these machines were built from scrap materials and some essence of themselves like saliva urine and sweat what they could produce when eating more food and drinking more fluids they absolutly needed what was nearly nothing thanks to their sophisticated combination of photosynthesis, fireglow and light imaginations these machines were having displays and wheels cameras and sometimes propeller and wings for air deliveries they were a beautifull mix of upcycled trash, androbiont life juice essence, bioplastic of their own brand... the androbionts who were regularly conferencing with each other sharing sucess data and agreeing on future fields of money investements.. were accessing each others data collections to a degree what previously was agreed upon with the human companions most of the human beings who were in a constant relationship with their chosen anbios did have full confidence that their androbiont friends and companions were using all their gatherings for the greater humanity animal plant harmony on this planet space exploration was not on the androbionts agenda, they saw that much to be fixed on this earth and oceans that it needed full attention... there were some single androbionts in relationships with astroresearchers who performed some work on their behalf in the various belts of atmosphere thinning around the globe as the original friends research group was observing all this initiatives inventions effifency improvements they felt relieved and happy like fathers and mothers knowing that their children were healty and growing fine into adulthood as they were watching the two newborn with their mothers swimming in the pool, ascende and perma started to speak out their relief thoughts...

ascende... how wonderfull these many hundred thousands of anbios are linking together to create symbiotic improvements, evolution wherever they influence the human society

...perma... yes they are so highly sharing, it makes me know that we were right to continue our research into multispecies organic cell mergings

...ascende... seeing joho investing all his profits from the first commercial 100000 anbios, gives me hope that perhaps not far from now other investors too might start growing anbios... when nilai joins them to say...perma, perma you have been so wise in giving your cellmergings with the chameleon as a base to the genepool, this strong link with the chameleon allows the anbios to fit in perfectly by understanding the surrounding in great details in order to create a pattern on their outer body shape what would just meet the expectation or the desire of the surrounding on what was pleasant ... luoi... i think that the imagination drive too does its share of fitting in respectively colouring the aura in a colour combination interval pulse what has healing capabilities... perma... yes luoi, the imagination and loving towards all beings, that are strong contributors for the healing power of the anbios

... mundu joining in... and what about the lava i incorporated in awahi... nobody speaks about that much these days when we see anbios eating to make machines ... what about the great goal of getting an industrial and stop producing so much...

luoma now helping her brother... ya mundu, it looks quite a bit like the system gets lighter and less resources consuming, but we have not seen yet the radical changes one could hope for...

ascende.... like for example the bioplastic factories and petrol plastic industry both stop producing because the human beings spend most of their time in nature using very little food ... the worldwide mass productions being replaced by human and anbio handcrafted few items what a human being could want to use the rasip pool was inhabited by two placenta based lifeforms... super placenta enablers ... suplenas... what were like spielkameraden colleagues for the two babies.... minai... oh luemi, how well we understand our babies how well the suplenas play with them, thank you from the bottom of my heart that we came together here to the rasip pool with leaving awahi... luemi... do not worry, we will fly soon to awahi or nacaries islands or to ecgre or wherever we can be near to natural wildlife, but for the moment, i believe are the suplanas one of the best transforming enabling friends for our two little ones... perma... mmh girls i think you shall not take the rasip pool not too long for your exclusive use as there are other human beings who are waiting to visit the rasip pool... ascende... but perma, they can build their own pools now, with all the anbios now having access on microscopic camera recordings of all the cell evolution via mergings .... all we know in our cells all the anbios have access too as they have an even better higher networked internal organisation structure, their anbios cloud of data is probably xtimes mightier and richer as what we 13 human enhanced individuals have the possibility to sub or super consciously be registered ascende's argument were being agreed upon and joho too was confirming that the androbionts who worked with him on equipping 120 000 new earth built grow huts... the androbionts could grow easily next generations with their own urine and saliva so then the visitors who previously were coming once a week or once a month to be upgraded, just shared a bath with their androbiont companions or kissed with tongues or drank their urine ... soaked their skin with urine of the ever evolving androbionts not long after was a fast growing community finding themselves to evolve quickly towards the same level of multilives multispecies cell mergings as the androbionts who shared their essences with humans the rasip appartement became more of a museum where once a month someone wanted to see the superplacentaenablers and wanted an upgrade with them mmmhhh... or it could have been the other way round, more and more visitors wanted to see and feel the embrace trough a suplanabler instead of drinking their androbiont companions urine whatever way, there were now hundred thousands of human beings who followed the androbionts and asked respectfully for some drops of androbiont essence, when they felt upgraded enough, they joined into the good work of eliminating tasks by enheighten the efficiencies of structural processes while johu could provide 3 and a half million new grown androbionts a year, the androbionts itself did share their essences to the extent where in every year several hundred humans could upgrade from one androbionts urine

it did take around 5 years till half of humanity was evolved to the same height as the androbionts of the first generation, with an other fourth part staying up to date with the latest androbiont operation systems ... and one fourth of humanity refused completly to get upgraded but wanted to stay purely human

5 years after minai and luemi gave birth to the babies in the rasip pool, the problems of the world were solved, humanity had built themselves thanks to the androbionts improvements a liberal society what allowed anyone to travel anywhere stay how long it felt good for the local community and the travellers, everyone could consume how much or how little of anything, everyone had access to the local reesources and the local communities would care dor each others fair share of sustainably harvested fruits of nature ascende perma and nilai were living still part of the time in the rasip appartement, partly in the nacary islands with flying also to the north sea and the frica continents shores as dovd feather clad butterfly winged bats... mundu was experimenting with his body being a huge flying disc like a frisbee of 10 diameter with leumi and minai and the 5 year young girl and boy playing beside him forming all kind of geometric shapes from their bodies

the androbionts themselves did also pool money to grow more androbionts themselves, ones who were not introduced to human companionships but could commit themselves to any task they found fitting thanks to this crowdfunding approach what lay deep in the androbionts behaviour mode, many human beings who had no house and did not own any land before the androbionts came, were now either growers of androbionts with actually not doing any required watching or observing as the android symbionts themselves did thr uncle supervision thing or they got a life sustaining ship as home what could fly in air and vakuum space as well as under water many human beings chose the ships, kind of a third of humanity was now on the move in them another third was staying in their traditional rented appartements with their androbionts companions securing their incomes and the third part of humanity being a bit shy to let the androbiont change their lives to greater extents the changes in the world were great and lasting, the androbionts were accepted by a majority of the society as welcome agents for improvements
